

Comparative Philology Graduate Seminar

Ancient Grammar and Linguistics

Michaelmas Term 2018

Convenors: Prof. Wolfgang de Melo, Prof. Philomen Probert,
Dr Alessandro Vatri, Prof. Andreas Willi

Tuesday, 2.15-4pm (weeks 2–8), Centre for Linguistics and Philology

16 October (week 2)	Andreas Willi The beginnings of linguistic thought in Ancient Greece
23 October (week 3)	Alessandro Vatri The Greek theory of prose rhythm and its psychoacoustic foundation
30 October (week 4)	Robin Meyer The art of (incomprehensible) grammar: Dionysius Thrax and the Armenian translation of the τέχνη γραμματική
6 November (week 5)	Wolfgang de Melo Varro's De lingua Latina: an introduction
13 November (week 6)	Philomen Probert Semantic change in linguistic terminology: examples from the Graeco-Roman grammatical tradition
20 November (week 7)	Wolfgang de Melo Unity in diversity: late Latin grammarians
27 November (week 8)	John Lowe Ancient Indian linguistics