

Faculty of Linguistics, Philology & Phonetics

General Linguistics Seminar

Hilary Term 2022

The following seminars will be given on Mondays 5:15 pm wks 2 – 8 Main Hall, Taylorian Institute

Please note wks 3 & 5 take place on Teams for access contact jane.cunning@ling-phil.ox.ac.uk

ALL WELCOME

2nd week: 24th January

Coronal and NonCoronal neutralization in latent segments governed by lexical categories: The Case of Shipibo-Konibo and Capanahua (Pano)

Dr Jose Elias Ulloa
(University of Oxford)

3rd week: 31st January TEAMS

Aramaic: lingua franca or koinē (or both)?

Professor John Healey
(University of Manchester)

4th week: 7th February

What neural oscillations can(not) do for syntactic structure building

Dr Nina Kazanina
(University of Bristol)

5th week: 14th February TEAMS

Modality and Gradability: A Crosslinguistic Perspective

Dr Vera Hohaus
(University of Manchester)

6th week: 21st February

Grammar up and down the Chomsky Hierarchy

Dr Diego Krivochen
(University of Oxford)

7th week: 28th February

On the variable status of partial control: A comparative study of French, German, Icelandic and English

Professor Michelle Sheehan
(University of Newcastle)

8th week: 7th March

Possessive marking in Nkep (Vanuatu)

Professor Miriam Meyerhoff
(University of Oxford)

Conveners: Aditi Lahiri - Kerstin Hoge - Wolfgang de Melo