

*Faculty of Medieval and Modern Languages and
Faculty of Linguistics, Philology, and Phonetics*

Romance Linguistics Seminars
Convener: Professor Martin Maiden

Faculty of Medieval and Modern Languages and Faculty of Linguistics, Philology, and Phonetics

The following seminars will be given at 5pm on Thursdays in 47 Wellington Square

All welcome

Michelle Sheehan, Newcastle and Jan Casalicchio, Palermo

27 January: 'The complementation patterns of Romance causatives: trends and idiosyncrasies'

Ros Temple, Oxford

*3 February: 'Musings on the history of français régionaux in the domaine d'Oïl'*

Alessandra Petrocchi, Oxford

*10 February. 'A historical-comparative perspective on the semantics of zero in Romance'*

Wyn Shaw, Oxford

17 February: 'Dislocations in Early Modern French'

Francesco Goglia, Exeter

24 February: 'Onward migration from Italy to the UK: a sociolinguistic perspective'

John Charles Smith, Oxford

3 March: 'What's a periphrasis? Paradigms and grammaticalization in Romance'

Xavier Bach, Oxford and Pavel Štichauer, Prague

10 March: 'Heteroclis and periphrasis in Romance'